

Why would I put my trust in the English electorate to make the right decisions on Scotland's behalf when it's proven time and time again that that just doesnae happen.

Alan Bissett, Author & Playwright

I voted No last time. I will vote Yes next time. The UK I voted for no longer exists. I realise now I was lied to by BetterTogether and the media. Westminster is undemocratic and doesn't understand Scotland. We are rich enough, smart enough and big enough to succeed.
