

In 1973 Irelands exports to the UK exceeded those to the EEC. Their exports to the UK have doubled since, but their exports to the EU are now more than 5x their UK exports.

Observatory of Economic Complexity, MIT

Many of the 2,001,926 people that voted No have now changed their minds, myself included. I won't make the same mistake twice come #IndyRef2.

It's a massive YES from me.

Gary, Glasgow

