

Britain is a ship adrift, with no captain, a shambolic crew throwing each other overboard, and a storm coming our way.
We're going to sink.

Owen Jones, Guardian columnist, Labour activist

Honestly, at this point as much as I love Scotland, I reckon it'd be in their best interest to leave the UK. English government is out of their damned minds.

N M, England

