

Did you Know?

Scotland currently builds more space satellites than any other country in Europe, employing more than 7,000 people.

Speaking to a Norwegian yesterday, he couldn't believe that our oil fund was totally non-existent. What's happened to all the money, he asked?

John Stanner

